

Where can A-level Politics take me?

Many students who study A Level Politics progress to a university degree, and there are many degree courses that A Level Politics can suit.

- Anthropology
- Economics
- English
- History
- International Relations
- Journalism
- Law
- Politics
- Philosophy
- Sociology

Whether jumping straight into employment after completing your A Levels, or completing a university course first, A Level Politics can lead to some interesting careers.

- Civil Service
- Government social research officer
- Policy officer
- Political risk analyst
- Politician's assistant
- Public affairs consultant
- Social researcher

There are also a range of careers in which the skills learned at A Level Politics can be particularly useful, including:

Business development manager, Charity officer, Detective, Diplomatic service officer, Forensic accountant, Human resources officer, Local government officer, Market researcher, Marketing executive, Newspaper journalist, Public relations officer, Stockbroker